

Greg Peters is the managing shareholder for the Minneapolis law firm of Peters, Revnew, Kappenman & Anderson, P.A. Greg's practice is split between traditional labor law, employment litigation, and employment and business counseling and advice. Greg has represented employers before federal, state and local courts and agencies, and in arbitrations throughout the United States in disputes involving virtually all areas of labor and employment law. The agencies include the National Labor Relations Board, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Department of Labor, and parallel state and local agencies. He has also successfully represented employers before the United States Seventh, Eighth and Eleventh Circuit Courts of Appeal, and the Minnesota and Wisconsin Court of Appeals. Greg has extensive arbitration, collective bargaining, union organizing and strike management experience. He also provides advice or training to employers in all areas of labor and employment law and employee relations.

Greg is licensed in Minnesota, Wisconsin, several federal district and appellate courts, and the United States Supreme Court.